DETAILED ACTION

The art unit designated for this application has changed. Applicant(s) are hereby informed that future correspondence should be directed to Art Unit 1631.

Applicant is hereby notified that the required timing for the correction of drawings has changed. See the last 6 lines on the sheet which is attached titled "Attachment for PTO-948 (Rev. 03/01 or earlier)". It is noted that a PTO Form 948 is mailed herewith. Due to the above notification Applicant is required to submit drawing corrections within the time period set for responding to this Office action. Failure to respond to this requirement may result in abandonment of the instant application or a notice of a failure to fully respond to this Office action.

This application has been filed under 35 U.S.C. § 371 and has been determined to have Lack of Unity of invention under PCT Rule 13.1 and under 37 CFR § 1.499 regarding the U.S. National Stage application as summarized below:

- I. Claims 1-17, drawn to a method of screening a compound library or portion thereof by absorption, classified in class 435, subclass 4. If this Group is elected, then the below summarized specie election is also required.
- II. Claim 18, drawn to a secondary compound library, classified in class 436, subclass 536. If this Group is elected, then the below summarized specie election is also required.

Specie Election Requirement for Groups I and II:

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Art Unit: 1631

For Groups I and II:

Specie A: a mammalian system of interest which is the gastrointestinal tract

Specie B: a mammalian system of interest which is the eye

Specie C: a mammalian system of interest which is the nose

Specie D: a mammalian system of interest which is the lung

Specie E: a mammalian system of interest which is the skin

Specie F: a mammalian system of interest which is the brain

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed specie for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, all claims in Groups I and II are generic to the above species. This distinctness or independence of the gastrointestinal tract versus the eye versus the nose versus the lung versus the skin versus the brain is because these species are directed to different parts of the mammalian body with different functions and structural features. The completely separate entity types of the species are often separately characterized and published in literature, thus adding to the search burden if all species were examined together. Thus, the above-mentioned six species are independent and/or distinct invention types for restriction purposes.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the specie that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should an applicant traverse the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions in Groups I and II are related as product and the process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the compound library of Group II may be utilized in distinct usages as needed in Group I for a method of screening a compound library by absorption, or alternatively, in various drug analysis studies. All of these usages are distinct as requiring distinct and different functions thereof without overlapping search due to different subject matter. This lack of overlapping searches documents the undue search burden if they were searched together.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Papers related to this application may be submitted to Technical Center 1600 by facsimile transmission. Papers should be faxed to Technical Center 1600 via the PTO Fax Center located in Crystal Mall 1. The faxing of such papers must conform with the notices published in the Official Gazette, 1096 OG 30 (November 15, 1988), 1156 OG 61 (November 16, 1993), and 1157 OG 94 (December 28, 1993) (See 37 CFR §1.6(d)).
